rated into the church's traditional series of "dinners for eight," she said, small dinners held in church members' homes to help new members meet others, and "as a means of deepening fellowship."

This year, the dinners will begin "very early in the season," and time will be reserved after dinner to discuss church goals — "our hopes for the future and how best to achieve them." A member of the church's board of directors will attend each dinner.

At the conclusion of the dinner series, a board of directors meeting, open to all, will be held, and "the results of each group's input will be examined, and an overall consensus of goals outlined," Stier said.

This effort, under the direction of membership director Joe Zahka, is "an outgrowth" of a day-and-a-half long seminar

Licenses, Permits Granted

The selectmen Tuesday night granted Bay State Gas Company permission to excavate approximately 10 feet into Wildwood Road, at number 52, to install a new gas service.

The board also approved a change of manager for Driscoll's Package Store, Inc., 5 Bartlett St. Aime F. Reming of 96 Chestnut St., a former town employee, has been named the new manager.

Bats

Bats have come to roost at Boston's Museum of Science in a recently opened display behind a glass window.

The museum features bats as an explanatory footnote to its exhibit, "Copan—Ancient City of the Maya." The Maya inscription meaning "city of Copan" included a leaf-nosed bat. That inscription is found on several sculptures in the Copan exhibit, which explores vanished Maya culture.

The new bat display contains mounted specimens and enlarged, color photos of several species, including the leaf-nosed bat. They range from the flying fox of the South Pacific, the world's largest bat, to the little brown bat common to New England.

the board of directors attended at the church during the summer. Stier explained. The seminar was conducted by the Rev. Bill Hollway, Jr., of the Unitarian-Universalist Association, headquartered in Boston.

Stier predicted "an exciting 1982" for the UU church as the result of the changes now underway and those still ahead. "The community will be aware that we are fully functioning and fully viable."

Angered Parents Appeal For Return Of Bus Service

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Before an auditorium filled with angry parents Monday night, the School Committee stood behind its transportation policy, directing the administration to work out current problems with the new bus service as quickly as possible.

During a tense two-hour discussion at West Junior High auditorium, parents argued that bus service should be re-instated for their neighborhoods because without buses, their children are forced to walk to school along unsafe streets.

"Physical safety is mandatory to a successful school program," Dr. Robert Brammer of Bradley Road in Ballardvale told the committee. "We don't believe it's a question of transportation versus quality education — it's not an either-or proposition."

The audience applauded Brammer, but Chairman Joseph Finn maintained that the transportation budget had to be cut last winter to "protect" the committee's top priorities: the classroom and other school programs. "Education takes precedence over transportation," Finn said.

There are "major problems" with the new bus service, Supt. Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert told the committee, including unsafe bus stops, the lack of a police safety officer; clustered bus stops, students standing on buses, the fear of icy streets come winter, and long walks to the bus stop for some students.

Unauthorized riders who have been boarding overcrowded buses and bus drivers who have decided to change bus stops on their own, without informing school officials, have also created problems since school opened two weeks ago, Seifert said.

Enrollment figures also need to be updated, the superintendent indicated, since enrollments do not seem to be dropping as quickly as anticipated — and uncertainty about actual enrollments has been complicated by the pre-Labor Day school opening.

Seifert asked for two weeks to work on those problems before returning to the committee with a status report on Tuesday, Sept. 29.

But Committeeman Richard Neal asked for faster action. Saying he did not believe the transportation cut was adequately planned in advance, Neal said solutions "should be coming very, very soon. I hope this will be resolved before two weeks more."

In a motion unanimously approved by the committee (minus the absent Donald Robb) as the hour neared 11:30 p.m., Neal moved that the administration obtain updated enrollments, revise bus routes and bus stops as necessary, and address all concerns raised by parents as quickly as possible.

Finn advised parents to write to Seifert or Transportation Coordinator Kathy Casey

To Discuss Respiratory Diseases

On Sept. 15, Dr. Rudolph Muto, an Andover resident with offices in Lawrence, will be the first speaker in a fall lecture series entitled "Your Health: It's in Your Hands," which is presented by the medical staff of Lawrence General Hospital.

The lecture, open to the public free of charge, will be held in the Kurth Auditorium of Lawrence General Hospital at 7:30 p.m.

"Lung cancer is one cancer which can be prevented—by stopping smoking," Dr. Muto points out. He stresses the need for people to be informed about lung cancer, one form of cancer currently on the increase especially among women.

Dr. Muto, a thoracic surgeon, will discuss lung cancer and smoking. He will also touch on emphysema and other respiratory diseases related to smoking.

A 1952 graduate of the University of Bologna, Dr. Muto was chief resident in surgery at the Mount Auburn Hospital in Cambridge from 1957-1958, and associate at Overholt Thoracic Clinic from 1960-1962.

He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Surgery and of the American Board of Thoracic Surgery as well as Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Chest Physicians and American Thoracic Society.

Dr. Muto is a senior thoracic surgeon at Jimmy Fund this past weekend.

Sponsors included Old Colony Bank, Haverhill, The Pingree Insurance Agency, Georgetown, and Bird Leasing & Aviation. As an extra challenge, he bicycled from the Bird Aviation Corporate Headquarters at the airport to Sturbridge.

The Pan-Massachusetts Challenge, as ridden by John Torosian, was a total of 275 miles over three days. The local residents who joined with him as sponsors to raise an additional sum of money for the Jimmy Fund should forward their checks by Friday. All checks should be made payable to the Pan-Massachusetts Challenge Trust. Contributions may be mailed to Torosian, c/o Bird Leasing & Aviation, P.O. Box 146, North Andover, MA 01845.

Town House Topics

To Discuss School Equipment

The school building committee and school committee plan to meet in joint session at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 24, at the water treatment plant on Lowell Street to discuss the school building program's vulnerable equipment budget.

That budget has been trimmed repeatedly to keep costs down for the $13.72 million budget originally approved by 1980 annual town meeting, and bolstered with an additional million by a special town meeting last spring.

Building Project Coordinator Richard McGrail will present the committee with detailed lists of existing equipment, as well as what equipment cannot be reused, what will be refurbished, and what new equipment is needed to furnish 18 areas in the town's three secondary schools, including physical education, industrial arts, art, and home economics areas.

The second phase of the equipment budget, including an additional six or seven areas, will be presented to the committees later this fall.

McGrail said last week bids should be requested for the equipment as soon as possible, since some contractors have indicated their prices will be increasing "substantially" as of Jan. 1.

Cable TV Probably A Year Away

Townpeople eagerly awaiting the arrival of cable television in Andover will probably have to wait another year, acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi indicated last week.

Construction will not begin until Rollins Cablevision of Atlanta, GA, has signed a final 15-year license with the town, probably by the end of October, the acting manager said.

The selectmen are currently reviewing a draft of a provisional license that Torrisi said he has been working on all summer. The provisional license, which must be signed before the final license, will probably be signed by the end of this month. It is a comprehensive document meant to offer "legal guarantees" to the community, he explained.

Torrisi expects construction to begin during the "late fall" of this year. Rollins has promised to have the entire town wired for cable service within 10 months from the start of construction.

Pneumonia, Flu Shots To Be Given

The Andover Board of Health will sponsor influenza and pneumococcal pneumonia clinics again this fall as part of an overall campaign to reduce the incidence and prevalence of these diseases. A moderately severe outbreak of influenza is anticipated in Massachusetts this winter. Pneumococcal pneumonia is caused by a bacteria and is one of the many forms of bacterial pneumonia to which humans are susceptible.

Vaccinations are indicated for persons in the senior age group and/or persons with certain chronic conditions or diseases.

The shots will be administered at a clinic sponsored by the Andover Board of Health on Thursday, Oct. 1, at the Sanborn School from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Preregistration is required for the pneumonia vaccine only and there will be a $5 charge for this immunization.

Flu shots are free and no preregistration is required.

To preregister for the pneumonia shot, or for further information, call the Town Public Health nurse at 475-7858.

Any questions regarding the clinical aspects of this vaccine or your personal medical needs should be directed to your personal physician. Transportation will be available at a special round-trip rate of 25¢ by the Council on Aging van. Call 470-0870 for details.

Project Ground Breaking Tuesday

State and local officials will join with Andover Housing Authority members Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. for official groundbreaking ceremonies for the new elderly housing project at Chestnut Court.

Construction will begin on 40 additional units which will be Andover's fourth elderly and handicapped complex. The additional 40 units will bring the total number of such units available in town to 216.

AHA Executive Director Thomas P. Walsh reports the new complex is expected to be ready for occupancy in a little over a year.

Tuesday's ceremonies will be at the site adjacent to the new Andover school department athletic field at Chestnut Court.

Hopkins Dedication Sunday

The Paul A. Hopkins memorial dedication is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 20, in the main foyer of Andover High School on Shawsheen Road at 3 p.m.

CPR Course

Lawrence General Hospital's Aid Association will sponsor the first fall Heart-saver course on Sept. 22, in the hospital's Kurth auditorium from 6 to 10 p.m.

Persons who master CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) may be responsible for saving the lives of those experiencing heart problems.

There is no fee. To register, contact the education department.

Aimed at increasing the number of lay persons trained to deal with the range of basic cardiac help, the program will focus on action to increase the immediate chance of the victim's survival, as well as techniques for learning CPR. Eighty percent of persons getting cardiac assistance and reaching the hospital within two hours of the beginning of their symptoms will live, underscoring the need for this type of education, said Linda Frost, RN, instructor for the course.

Anyone mastering CPR will receive certification as a "Heartsaver," trained to act in a cardiac emergency.

A memorial bronze portrait tablet will be dedicated in honor of Paul A. Hopkins' contributions and dedication to the Andover school system and to the community.

Mr. Hopkins, a graduate of Boston College and Harvard University, taught science at Andover High School from 1953 until his death in 1980.

The theme of the dedication is "Teacher, family man, friend and man of God—this was Paul Hopkins."

The family extends an invitation to friends who wish to attend the dedication.

Troop 102 Meets

Boy Scout Troop 102 will hold its first meeting of the year, Monday, Sept. 21, at the Bancroft School from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Registration for new members will be accepted.

Fall Plans Set For Troop 77

Boy Scout Troop 77 has an active fall planned for members, including mountain climbing, camping and participating in this year's Fall Camporee.

A campout is being held for boys ages 11 to 17 interested in joining the troop and arrangements may be made by contacting Scoutmaster Richard Shupe. A group of older, experienced scouts, called the leadership patrol, will assist in the instruction of the new scouts.

A mountain climbing trip to Mt. Washington is scheduled for Sept. 19 and 20, with another camping trip set for Oct. 16 and 18 and Nov. 7 and 8.

Troop 77 meets each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at West Parish church, Andover.

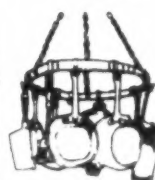

WOK

Practically universal in its use, it stars as sauce pan, frying pan, deep fryer, sauté pan and braising pan. That is not all it can do: you can use it for steaming, simmering and parboiling. So a wok is not extravagant to own and could well be the ideal gift for a bride and groom. It is certainly not a pan that cooks only in Chinese!

Boys in grades 3, 4 and 5 interested in joining the pack are urged to attend with their parents. Cubs returning to Pack 71 must also register at this time.

Pack 71 has been active in the Shawsheen area for the past 25 years. With the recent closing of the Shawsheen School, new sponsorship by the Lawrence Savings Bank will enable the pack to maintain its geographic identity and continue to serve the Shawsheen area.

Bus Policy

with their problems.

Neal emphasized that bus routes will not be reinstated. "The money is not available in the budget to reinstate buses," he explained. "We can't move money from programs that have already been implemented."

The transportation policy approved by the school committee on August 19 provides busing for kindergarten and elementary students who live more than a mile and a half from their schools, and secondary school students who live more than two miles from school. (In past years, elementary students beyond a one-mile radius from school could ride the buses, along with secondary students who lived outside a mile-and-a-half radius.)

The policy also calls for centralized bus stops — eliminating "street-by-street or door-by-door pick-up and/or delivery" — and bus stops within one mile of children's homes.

Approximately 300 children who live within the limit are being bused because they live in the most dangerous parts of town, Finn said, explaining that those areas were determined by a safety committee of police officials and school staffers.

Parents from Ballardvale, the Indian Ridge Homeowners Association, Beacon Street, St. Augustine's School and other parts of town urged the committee to reinstate the buses that have been cut. The atmosphere was often hostile — a word used frequently during the meeting — with the audience booing, hissing and groaning at committee members' remarks.

Committeeman John S. Eaton drew the loudest negative reaction when he said he disapproved of Ballardvale parents' daily protest marches to the South school, which have been covered by television news cameras. "I don't like the signs, and I don't like the television," Eaton said. "You can boo me all you want, but you're setting a lousy example for your kids."

The chairman opened the discussion by

Pike Has Record Enrollment

David Frothingham

For the second straight year, The Pike School in Andover opened yesterday to a near record enrollment of 374 students.

When asked about the effects of Proposition 2½, Headmaster David Frothingham reported that applications increased at a normal rate of ten-to-fifteen percent during the past fall and winter terms, but that there has been an unusually steady flow of new applicants through the spring and summer months... the latter clearly resulting from Proposition 2½ pressures. Although the school plans no direct response to these new pressures, Headmaster Frothingham did note that the school's faculty, administration, and board of trustees have recently initiated a major long-range planning effort.

The independent school, now in its 56th year of operation, offers classes for nursery school through ninth grade. This year Pike School students are enrolled from 36 towns which include: Andover, 152 students; North Andover 35; Methuen 25; Haverhill 22; Boxford 18; Lynnfield 18; Tewksbury 12; Lowell 10; Lawrence 8; Southern New Hampshire 25, and several additional surrounding towns.

Frothingham has also announced the appointment of eight new faculty members for the current academic year. Joining the Pike Upper School (grade 6 through 9) is Thomas H. Bartlett of Plymouth. Mr. Bartlett graduated from Noble and Greenough School and Dartmouth College with distinction. For the past year he has been an instructor for Baldrige Reading and Study Skills, teaching student groups ranging from seventh grade through college. He has spent eight years in foreign countries and comes to Pike to teach history and to coach after-school sports.

A new member of the French department is Georgia Renfro, a graduate of Emma Willard School and the University of Colorado. Ms. Renfro received her master's degree in French from Middlebury in preparation for which she studied theatre, art history, literature and linguistics for a year at the University of Paris. After completing the Massachusetts certification program at Brandeis, she taught in the West Yarmouth and the Franklin public schools and at the Cambridge School of Weston.

Andover resident Ruth Clark joins the Middle School as a reading teacher. She graduated from the Dwight-Englewood School and earned her degree in education from Bennett and Wheelock College. Mrs. Clark has taught for more than seven years in the Wakefield, Hingham, and Andover school systems. Most recently she spent four years as a Title I reading tutor in Andover.

Completes Advanced Studies

Lilia Guerra

Andover High School student Lilia Guerra has returned for her senior year after successfully completing the Massachusetts Advanced Studies Program.

Lilia, a member of Andover's National Honor Society chapter, took courses in genetics and in autobiographical writing during the six weeks of the program. She also participated in dance classes and bicycling expeditions in the afternoons, and particularly enjoyed the frequent expeditions to Boston which were part of the extracurricular activities.

Asked to comment on the value of the program Lilia said, "I met a lot of new people from different backgrounds. We had a great time together and always found time to get away from the workload and get to know each other better. It was a great experience; I learned a lot about many people and even myself! I think the six weeks went by too fast. I'd do it again. The MASP's a great opportunity."

Students are nominated for the Massachusetts Advanced Studies Program by their school's guidance office and principal. This year 125 students were selected to participate from among over 400 nominees. Support for students needing financial aid came from over 40 foundations and businesses throughout the state in 1981.

The participants enrolled in intensive academic courses in subject areas of their choice, while receiving guidance in college and career planning.

Guest speakers at the program, which takes place each year on the campus of Milton Academy, included Governor Edward J. King and former Boston School Superintendent Robert Wood.

Nominations for the 1982 Massachusetts Advanced Studies Program will be made from this year's junior class during the fall term. Interested students should contact their guidance counselor.

Pike

New science teacher Rob Moir attended the Cambridge School of Weston. He received a bachelor's degree in natural science from Hampshire College and a master of science degree in teaching and environmental studies from Antioch New England Graduate School. He has done additional course work at the Marine Biological Laboratory and supervised undergraduate research at the Sea Education Association both at Woods Hole and taught at the Habitat Institute in Belmont and at Hampshire College.

Ralph Wales, a Westwood native, will teach social studies to all middle school grades (3,4,5). He is a cum laude graduate of Noble and Greenough School and of Harvard with a degree in history and general studies. He comes to Pike after teaching language arts and history at the Salisbury School in Maryland where he also worked on curriculum development and outdoor education.

Pike's new afternoon Day Care program — an option for its pre-primary students — will be in charge of Sarah E. Bardo. Ms. Bardo has moved to Andover from Williamstown where she was coordinator and teacher at the Community Day Care Center and resident director of the ABC House there. She received her bachelor's degree cum laude in education from the University of Massachusetts. She has also done further study in botany and outdoor education and completed a study of English education at a nursery school in Bath, England. For two years she taught in the Williamstown school.

Also joining the Lower School is Lillian Hsu who will be teaching four and five year olds in Pike's preprimary. She is a graduate of Wellesley with degrees in psychology and art, received her master's degree in education from Harvard, and has done further study at Trinity and M.I.T. She formerly taught social studies at the Park School in Baltimore and kindergarten at the Bryn Mawr School.

'Changing Lives'

The Greater Lawrence YWCA will hold a program entitled "Changing Bodies/Changing Lives" on Monday, Sept. 21, 28 and Oct. 5, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The course is open to girls ages 10, 11 and 12 and their mothers. The first night will be a general overview of the changes that teenagers go through using the film "Then One Year." The second night will be an open discussion about menstruation and the specific changes that girls go through during the teenage years using the film "Dear Diary." The third night will deal with any questions concerning growth and development and puberty.

The program will be conducted by Donna George of Healthworks.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Come one! Come all! To the giant Flea Market at The Haven, Essex Street, Andover's senior citizen drop-in center, Saturday, Sept. 19, from 10 to 4. Donations may be brought by the center anytime this week, or if it is too large to carry, you may call the center and it will be picked up. But most important, you are needed as customers! Do plan to stop by. You may find some treasure you've been looking for. Remember—this Saturday, the 19th, at the senior center.

Arrangements have been made for a second bus for the fall foliage trip Oct. 14, but even that is filling fast. If you want to join the group as they travel to Westminster to enjoy the beautiful all colors, get down to The Haven in a hurry and register. It will cost $12, which includes transportation and a delicious luncheon at the Old Mill Restaurant in Westminster. The meal will be full course with choice of entree of either pot roast jardiniere or baked stuffed file of sole—and dessert, too!

Classes begin at the center the week of the 28th. If you were unable to register the 16th, it is still not too late for most classes. Do call to find out. Since few of the classes have specific numbers, most of them will have room to include you and will be happy to do so.

The new hot lunch program at Shawsheen School is proving to be very popular. Why don't you plan to have lunch with your friends at the school? You must call The Haven by 10 o'clock of the day you wish to attend so that food will be prepared for you. The number is 470-0870.

Next Monday the travelog series will begin with a tour of Austria brought to you by Carleton Shulze at 2 p.m. Sept. 21 at The Haven. The following Monday, Ina Jowett will escort you to Island Paradise. Do plan to make these travelogs a part of your weekly schedule.

There are still a few tickets left for the Oct. 4 performance of "The King and I" starring Yul Bryner. Cost is $30 for transportation and orchestra seats. Stop by the center and get yours.

The Sept. 22 session of the mini-clinic will be held at the Ballardvale United Church. Appointments are required and may be made through the Andover Health Department. The service is free, and staffed by Andover's public health nurses—capable, competent and caring women. If you have problems, they will be happy to help you solve them.

Course Registration Scheduled

Registration for agricultural and horticultural courses at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute will be held by phone through September 21.

Courses offered include home vegetable gardening, home grounds landscaping, herb culture, greenhouse management, horse management, backyard poultry, indoor plant culture, livestock management for home producer, small fruit culture for home grounds, principles of nutrition, quality control and food sanitation, personnel and administration in the food industry, meat cutting and merchandising. Bus Policy asking the parents to understand that the policy is the school committee's and not the superintendent's, who is charged with the "unfortunate" responsibility of carrying it out. Likening Seifert to the ancient messenger who was shot for bearing bad news, Finn said, "Please don't shoot Dr. Seifert."

Finn assured the audience that the committee did not make the decision to cut busing "lightly — we are not throwing safety to the wind."

"We are not passing judgment on how safe or unsafe a situation might be," he added. "But a school bus can no longer be the answer." The reason, he said repeatedly, is that Proposition 2½ left the committee with a limited budget and the need to make "difficult" choices.

"That's what Barbara Anderson has thrust upon us," Finn said, referring to the tax-cutting measure's most prominent advocate.

He added that parents "should be a lot more concerned about the other shoe that's about to be dropped — not what's happening with transportation. There is going to be a decimation of education in this state ... this is the bigger issue."

Parents who are concerned about their children's safety will have to accept the responsibility for getting them to school safely, the chairman added. He volunteered the school department's cooperation in setting up carpools, parent safety committees, private bus contracts, safety patrols or other measures.

The parents who attended school committee budget discussions last winter made it clear that education was more important to them than busing, Finn pointed out.

Pupil-Teacher Ratio Increases

With the Shawsheen School closed and 27 teachers laid off, the ratio of students to teachers in Andover schools has increased this year, the assistant superintendent reported to the School Committee Monday night — enough so that two teachers should be added at one elementary school.

Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos recommended that two teachers be added to the West Elementary School staff, where "the impact of Proposition 2½" has been "most dramatic."

The average student-to-teacher ratio has increased from 24 to 26 at the elementary level, Mitsakos said, where 12 teachers were laid off. At the secondary level, with 15 teaching positions cut, the ratios are within one student of last year's ratios, he added.

A "floating" teacher has been added to the staff of each school to help with the overflow of students, the assistant superintendent told the committeemen, but at Sanborn and West Elementary those teachers had to be assigned to the growing West Traditional program.

For that reason, Mitsakos recommended adding two teachers to West Elementary, one at the primary level and one in grade five, where the ratio is up around 34 students.

When asked by Committeeman John S. Eaton where those two salaries might come from, Mitsakos pointed out that the committee had approved a number of retirements and resignations earlier during the meeting.

Chairman Joseph Finn said the committee would "leave it as an administrative matter", and asked the administration to report how the salaries might be covered at the committee's next meeting, scheduled for Sept. 29.

Committee member Richard Neal said he would like to have seen more staffing at the elementary level, and less at the secondary level to keep elementary class sizes small.

But Mitsakos answered that with secondary staffing, as well as elementary staffing, the administration had "really gotten to the bone. There are no empty classrooms."

Several parents in the audience complained that their children's classes are too large, holding back some pupils' progress, while the West Traditional program has smaller class sizes.

One mother said there were more than 30 students in her child's class, while less than 20 students were in a Traditional classroom. At least one father suggested, to enthusiastic applause, that it might be time to eliminate the Traditional program.

Finn said that while no changes will be made this year, the entire elementary curriculum will be revamped in the next year or two, to deal with the budgetary restrictions of Prop 2½.

"We're not going to continue to have education at the elementary level as we have had in the past," he explained. "What we've had for the last several years is not what we're going to have in the 1980s. The ballgame changes."

The chairman advised parents to become involved in that evaluation process by working through their PTOs.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert suggested that if parents are unhappy with the way their children are grouped into classes, they should go to the schools to discuss it with teachers and principals, rather than the school committee.

Teachers at each grade level group their students according to ability, Mitsakos explained, so some classes may be larger than the average teacher-pupil ratio, and some may be smaller.

"Grouping practices haven't changed," Mitsakos added. "We leave that to the teachers. We have a very highly professional staff, and when you look at the results — at the progress the students are making — they're doing a heck of a job."

The audience of hundreds of parents — many of them on hand to talk about this year's limited bus service — were unsatisfied with those answers. Jim Segal said the committee "shouldn't go on blaming all the reasons we're here tonight on 2½."

Committeeman Michael Giammusso told the parents that "this committee has maintained education in this town far beyond the level I imagined was possible last February. This committee has acted in a way that the town of Andover should be thankful for — believe me, the Andover school system is sound," he added.

Members of the audience moaned loudly and hissed Giammusso's remarks, particularly when he read from a Boston Globe article describing the future of education in Massachusetts after Proposition 2½.

During the busing discussion some two hours later, the parents roared their approval when Grover Nix said it was "a good procedure to read the Globe to us so that people would leave early."

Why Religious Education?

Thoughtful parents know that many of the problems their children face cannot be answered by what is taught at school or learned at home. The church's responsibility is to create an environment where problems can be illuminated by the light of faith in a community of concern.

"Where will my child acquire the moral fiber to choose between compassion and self-interest?"

"How can we learn to defy the de-humanizing effects of technology?"

"How shall we match physical growth with inner strength and maturity to cope with drugs, sexual permissiveness, and material greed?"

"What equips men and women to form strong, constructive, and lasting relationships?"

"How can one make ready to conquer pain, frustration, or death?"

"What can I give my child that will enable him to face an uncertain world and to survive?"

Christ Church offers a professionally directed modern and comprehensive program of moral and religious training to children of the community from Pre-Kindergarten through High School. For information, call 475-0529 or send in the blank below.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Oh Holy Spirit, thou who are all knowing, who brightens every path that I may reach my idea, thou who givest me this divine gift of forgiving and forgetting wrongs done unto me and who in every instant of my life art with me, I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all your blessings and re-affirm once again that I never want to part from thee though the illusion of material things beckon.

My desire is to be with thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace. Thank you for your mercy on me and mine. Person should pray 3 consecutive days without revealing petition. Within three days grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the petition may be. Publish this prayer: one grace attained.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — September 1906

The poultry owners on Salem street are up in arms over the arrival of a weasel which has been destroying some of the choice fowl in their coops. George Foster is reported to be the heaviest loser, about 50 of his best chickens having been killed.

Everett Collins, the well known soloist at Christ Church will sing a solo at the Free Church service Monday morning and the pastor will speak to the children.

Fully 5000 people attended the annual picnic at Caledonian grove, West Roxbury, last Saturday under the auspices of the Caledonian Club of Boston. The games were very interesting but the bag pipe playing and the display of various tartans proved to be the most attractive for the Scotch people. There were many people from Abbott Village present to see the "lads in Tartan."

Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McTernan, has opened his dental parlor in Barnard's block on Main street and is now ready to serve the people of Andover. Three large rooms are occupied by Dr. McTernan, one being a waiting room for patients and is the first one entered. This room is finely furnished with Mission furniture and a cozy corner. There is also a library for use of waiting patients.

Sir Chentung Liang Chen, the Chinese minister to the United States and a graduate of Phillips Academy, paid a visit to Principal Alfred I. Stearns on Monday. The distinguished visitor was accompanied by his two sons, the elder one of whom will enter the Academy two years from next September. After a four years' course here he will go to West Point Naval Academy.

50 Years Ago — September 1931

The American Woolen Company will shortly place on sale its large soccer field, sub-divided into house lots, located in Shawsheen Village, it has been learned exclusively by the Townsman from reliable sources. Surveyors have been working quietly in the vicinity at the orders of the company to lay out the field, which has been used extensively for sports in the past, into about 60 house lots.

Andover police and the police from surrounding towns and cities are conducting today the intensive search to apprehend a man from Madison, Wis., who was locked up in the Andover jail yesterday on vice charges and who, with an accomplice, rioted off a water bowl, smashed the lock on his cell, pushed open the door, and calmly and quietly walked out to freedom through the Park street door of the Andover Town House.

Of the number of persons who applied for monetary relief under the recently-enacted old-age assistance law, five were mailed checks on Monday, totalling $35, according to officials at Town Hall. Next week an additional $29 will be added, supplying aid for five more persons.

Browsing through antique shops and lunching in one of the shops off Main Street, two quiet young women, one the daughter of Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, the other the daughter of the late Henry Frick, steel magnate and manufacturer, spent a few hours in Andover Monday and when they departed, they remarked that "Andover was a lovely town." The women, who probably have the distinction of being the richest women in the country, if not the world, are summering at the Mellon Estate at Pride's Crossing on the North Shore. Monday was their first visit to Andover, where they arrived in their Rolls Royce.

25 Years Ago — September 1956

The possibility of municipal garbage collection has arisen. The board of health has decided to sponsor an article in the coming special town meeting asking appointment of a committee to study the situation.

Donna Collins of Main Street was one of 60 contestants at the annual Hampton Beach Beauty contest. She placed well up on the list of finalists.

A firm price of $885,000 has been tagged to the South school. Voters will be asked to approve the amount at a special town meeting Sept. 24. That price, well under the original estimate of $920,000, does not include the cost of a sewage disposal system.

The first highway connection to the Route 28 bridge across the Merrimack may be underway by the year's end. State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe, while inspecting the bridge substructure last week, said bids will be requested before the end of the year on two highway sections.

Shades of Davy Crockett and Dan'l Boone. While their memories linger on in song and legend, their arms — the long-familiar Kentucky flint lock rifles — are still with us. Or more correctly, they are with members of the Andover Sportsman's Club. And they'll be used in a special "Kentucky Rifle Shoot" during the club's second annual turkey shoot this Sunday at the club grounds.

10 Years Ago — September 1971

Maybe a top criteria for membership on a municipal Planning Board, is not to plan too much. It would seem that way, as the Andover planning board is now faced with the current trend in multiple housing — the condominium type construction. Condominium, a complex of several dwelling units within a single building, with ownership of the individual unit similar to that of a single family house, is new to Andover. Voters may be acting on permission to allow condominium construction as early as the October town meeting.

Young voters are continuing to register in a rather steady flow at the town clerk's office. Persons having reached the age of 18 are now permitted to participate in all elections and a town meeting. Town Clerk Helen W. Taylor reports this week that a total of almost 400 young people have registered since enactment of the new legislation which permits participation in all elections.

A statement has been issued by the Board of Health, an allay fears concerning a bite but which bit a resident this past week. The person was treated for the bite and should suffer no ill effects, according to local health authorities. It was the first such incident locally in almost 10 years.

A record of Andover's 325th anniversary observance in May has been placed in the public library of its namesake community, Andover, England. A letter from Mayor G. Finch of Andover, England, to Miss Marion Hill, Secretary of the 325th anniversary committee, received this week, noted the English officials' appreciation for the literature received relative to this town's observance.

School Funds Are Distributed

The first distribution of state school aid funds were announced this week by the department of revenue, with Andover due to receive $420,702.

Andover's share is a part of the $179,522,348 distributed to cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth for the first quarter of the fiscal year.

Former Principal, Bancroft Teacher Resign

Jack Woodward

A school principal who fell victim to Proposition 2½ and a veteran teacher who has retired after 16 years in the Andover schools were commended by the School Committee Monday night, when committeemen approved personnel changes made during the summer.

West Elementary Assistant Principal Jack Woodward has resigned, effective Sept. 11, to join the Laconia, New Hampshire school department. Formerly the Sanborn school principal, Woodward lost that position this year to Isabel Dobbie, former principal of the now-closed Shawsheen school.

Committee members said they regretted Woodward's leaving, explaining that Prop 2½ hastened the Shawsheen closing, which probably would have happened within the next few years anyway. Woodward joined the Andover school department eight years ago.

The schoolmen had words of praise for Marion Fahey, a third grade teacher at the Bancroft school, who retired Sept. 1. Fahey worked in the Andover schools since September, 1965. She was the only school department employee to retire over the summer.

In addition to Woodward, school employees who have resigned since last spring are: Moira Baker, secretary to the pupil personnel administrator and a school employee since November, 1979, to accept another position; Jane Cronin, special needs instructional aide at East Junior High, employed since September, 1980, for personal reasons; Helga Dumosch, media processing center clerk, employed since September 1980, for personal reasons; Patricia Fabiani, teacher aide at the South school, employed since September, 1974, for personal reasons; and Terrence Finnerty, a South school custodian, employed since April, 1966, resigning with the intent to retire effective July 17, 1981.

Also now resigned are: Maureen Harrington, high school business education, employed since December, 1979, for personal reasons; Carol Lopez, high school Spanish, on a personal leave of absence during the 1980-81 school year and employed since September, 1975, for personal reasons; Barbara Markey, East Junior High teacher aide, employed since September 1972, to accept another position; and William McAllister, high school industrial arts, a teacher since September, 1975, to accept other employment.

Also resigning: Teresa McNally, Sanborn instructional aide employed since November, 1978, for personal reasons; Melvin Nicoll, Bancroft senior custodian, employed since July, 1957, for personal reasons; Mary O'Connell, Sanborn special needs instructional aide, employed since September, 1980, to accept other employment; Dale Pierson, South instructional aide, employed since September, 1977, to accept other employment; and Christine Riddington, South special needs instructional aide, employed since March, 1980, to accept other employment.

Also: Mark Ruggerio, computer programmer/analyst, employed since January, 1980, for personal reasons; Patricia Tremblay, West Elementary teacher aide, employed since October, 1979, to accept other employment; Mary Anne Zimmerman, West Junior High media aide, employed since October, 1978, for personal reasons; and Thomas Teichman, high school hall monitor, employed since September, 1980, for personal reasons.

Leaves of absence were approved for Eileen Biggio, a Title VI-B learning disabilities teacher-tutor, child-bearing leave effective Sept. 1 for the duration of her disability as certified by her physician, to be immediately followed by a child-rearing leave of absence for the remainder of the 1981-82 school year; Linda George, high school social studies teacher on a child-bearing leave from April 27 until June 30, granted a child-rearing leave for the 1981-82 school year; Maureen Pellerin, second grade teacher at West Elementary, a child-bearing leave to begin approximately Oct. 22 and to continue for the duration of her disability as certified by her physician, to be immediately followed by a child-rearing leave though the first semester of the current school year; and Patricia Thomson, West Elementary 5/10's learning disabilities teacher-tutor, a child-bearing leave to begin approximately Sept. 18, to continue through the duration of her disability as certified by her physician.

An involuntary leave of absence, effective Sept. 1 for one year, was approved for Karen Feinberg, instructional aide, who was notified June 17. Instructional aide Judith Malakoff was also notified of a one-year involuntary leave, but because of the resignation of Dale Pierson, she has since been recalled and tentatively assigned to 27 hours per week at the South school.

The committee also approved the first re-elections, effective Sept. 1, of Susan McLellan, East Junior High, math, $14,856/year, bachelor's-step 5; and Cynthia O'Toole, East Junior High, self-contained perceptually handicapped class, $16,113/year, bachelor's-step 6-$15,413 plus $700 differential.

Second re-elections approved were: Carol Breesler, Sanborn, self-contained perceptually handicapped class, $16,157/year, master's-step 6-$15,457 plus $700 differential; Kathryn Kilroy, learning disabilities teacher-tutor, 8/10's time, $13,972/year, master's-step 6; Lori Humlak, West Junior High foreign language, $13,752/year, bachelor's-step 3; Craig Simpson, high school social studies, $16,222/year, master's-step 4; and Patricia Thomson, West Elementary 5/10's learning disabilities teacher-tutor, $6,876/year, bachelor's-step 3.

Hilary Waldinger, high school English, was elected to tenure with a yearly salary of $17,465 (master's-step 6).

Recalled from involuntary leaves of absence were: Donald Anderson, to Bancroft, grade three; Susan Infantine, to Bancroft, grade one; Diane Stefanelli, to West Elementary, grade six; Irene Crane, to Bancroft, grade six; and Carol Buchanan, to Bancroft, grade three.

Elections effective Sept. 1 were approved for Jane Baker of Peabody, high school biology, half-time, at $7,135 (master's-step 1), replacing R. Petrella, who transferred to program advisor; Patricia Kasper of Andover, East Junior High arts, at $13,369 (bachelor's-step 2), replacing S. Ooyevaar, who transferred to the high school; William Kolbe of Andover, high school Spanish at $13,369 (bachelor's-step 2), replacing C. Lopez, who resigned; and Brian McNally of Lawrence, East Junior High health, at $12,983 (bachelor's-step 1), replacing S. Brown, who resigned.

Athlete Physicals A Problem

The state law requiring yearly physicals for student athletes has led to some frustrations for athletes and coaches alike, the athletic program advisor told school committeemen Monday night.

Students must have a physical examination every year, at their own expense, before they can even suit up for practice in school sports such as soccer and football. Program Advisor Dick Swift explained. Without physicals, youngsters can't participate because coaches and the schools could be held legally responsible for injuries, he said.

But overburdened local doctors often balk at giving frequent physicals to healthy young patients, Swift said. "They feel they're much too busy," he told the committee. "They can't understand why it's necessary to examine someone they saw 18 months ago." As a result, coaches have had to "chase people and send people home."

Swift suggested that a physician be brought into the schools to do groups of physicals, at the students' expense but at a lower cost than students have been paying family physicians—up to $40. Through an arrangement with the Greater Lawrence Community Health Center, such physicals might cost students $10 to $15, Swift said.

Chairman Joseph Finn instructed the school administration to look into that idea.

The position of school physician was eliminated in recent years to cut spending

Revaluation Firm Hears Over 3,000 Appeals

PRC Jacobs heard the last appeals of its controversial revaluation of Andover land from residential, commercial and industrial landowners yesterday, and has now begun sorting out the information presented during the past weeks of more than 3,000 hearings.

Anxious homeowners have already started calling Jacobs for the results of their hearings, but no changes will be made on any revaluation for at least two or three weeks. PRC Jacobs Project Manager Eugene Tworek said this week.

No adjustments have been made to date, he indicated, even on the handful of assessments that apparently include factual errors.

All assessments must be reviewed by the Jacobs staff, and some may warrant field reviews, Tworek explained, to verify owners' comments made during the hearings. He pointed out that field reviews may be done without contacting property owners, "by observation alone."

Jacobs workers did get a head start on the field reviews this week, before the appeals hearings ended, by inspecting properties during early morning and late afternoon hours, he added.

Owners whose valuations are adjusted will be notified by mail before the end of October. Property owners will not be notified unless their revaluations are adjusted, he added.

The firm is not hearing any further appeals. Tworek said: Taxpayers now will have to take their complaints to the Board of Assessors — and from there to the state Appellate Tax Board — after they receive their tax bills.

However, landowners who were not able to meet with Jacobs during the appeals period — because they were out of town or hospitalized, for example — may send written comments to the firm at town hall, Tworek added, referring to the map and lot number that appears on their revaluation notice.

Early Release Dates Are Approved

The School Committee Monday night approved four early-release days for Andover students this year: Oct. 5, Nov. 2, March 22, and May 3.

Students will leave school at noontime on those four days, so teachers may have the afternoons free for inservice education sessions.

The first no-school day of the new school year is Monday, Oct. 12, Columbus Day.

James Madison, the fourth U.S. President, died June 28, 1836.

He said letters from owners who have had hearings are neither necessary nor encouraged.

Four Are Merit Semifinalists

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Four Andover residents, two of them seniors at Andover High School and two of them Phillips Academy seniors, have qualified as Semifinalists in the 1982 National Merit Scholarship competition.

The Andover High Semifinalists are Charles W. Hamilton and Jeff A. Olsen, while the Phillips Semifinalists are Nancy E. Katz and David P. Kirshfield.

The four are among 15,000 Semifinalists chosen from more than one million secondary school students who entered the National Merit program this year throughout the nation. Some 5,000 scholarship winners will be named next spring.

Hamilton, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

James H. Hamilton of 1 Hacienda Way. He is an honor roll student who plans to major in computer science in college, and later work in computer systems.

Olsen, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olsen of 4 Farwood Drive, is editor of the AHS school newspaper The Rock, yearbook editor, and a member of the gymnastics club, the National Honor Society, the AFS (American Field Service) Club, and the Math Club.

He plans to major in architecture in college, and hopes to go on to a career as an architect.

Katz, a 17-year-old senior at Phillips, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard A.

Katz of 68 Phillips St. She is a member of Blue Key (a welcoming organization), an orientation leader for new students, and an English and mathematics tutor. She also works in the Academy's student center.

Katz hopes to study history at either Amherst College or Millbury College, and to become a lawyer. She shares the distinction of being named a National Merit Scholarship Semifinalist with her sister Caroline, who was also named a Semifinalist while studying at the Academy.

Kirshfield, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Kirshfield of 175 Lowell St. He is president of the Phillips ham radio club, W1SW, and works as a typesetter for the school newspaper, The Phillipian.

Kirshfield plans to study physics in college; he will apply to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the United States Military Academy at West Point. He hopes to become a physicist.

Students entered the 1982 National Merit Scholarship competition by taking the PSAT/NMSQT (a national standardized examination) in 1980. The semifinalists named in each state represent the top half of one percent of the state's high school senior class.

About 7,000 scholarships in three categories, of up to $8,000 each, will be awarded.

School Building Project

West Work A Little Rocky The Rest Moving Smoothly

Construction of the school building project is continuing at a satisfactory pace, the town's project manager reported to the school building committee last week, although work at West Junior High has been "slowed down" for a while.

Construction workers from Peabody Construction Co. have encountered "heavy amounts" of large rocks and boulders at the West Junior High site. Project Manager William Mansell told the building committee last Thursday night.

Because the contractor will be paid according to the weight of the rocks removed, work was slowed down while the rocks were measured and removed by hand, Mansell explained. (Committee member Donald Robb quipped that mathematics students should be enlisted to measure the rocks to speed things up.) The boulders will have to be hoisted off site during after-school hours.

The footings have been dug and were scheduled to be poured this week for the new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C., or library), at West, Mansell added. No work has been done in the interior of the school, where classroom space will be renovated.

Work at the Doherty School is ahead of schedule.

interior is almost completely stripped, most of the underground utilities have been installed, and the slabs were scheduled to be poured early this week.

The aged Stowe School will be demolished to make way for the conversion project in approximately two weeks, Mansell indicated. Bids for the demolition project are out and will be accepted in about 10 days, he said, "and the demolition will start shortly thereafter."

The Doherty will be converted into a junior high to replace East Junior High, with the addition of a new wing. East's Memorial Auditorium will be renovated as part of the new school, but its remaining

McNemar To Be Installed As Headmaster Saturday

Donald William McNemar will be installed as headmaster of Phillips Academy, Andover, on Saturday, Sept. 19, at 10 a. m. in a public outdoor ceremony.

Joining the academic procession will be 60 to 75 visiting dignitaries in full academic regalia, representing universities, colleges and other secondary schools. The public is invited to welcome the new headmaster of coeducational Andover, the first independent school incorporated in the nation.

was headmaster from 1972 to 1981, left Andover in June to lead a foundation-supported study of American high schools. The investiture of Andover's 13th headmaster since 1778 will underscore the importance of strong secondary education in America today—just as two centuries ago when both the nation and Phillips Academy were born in the American Revolution.

McNemar's acceptance speech will set out his priorities for Andover—continued outreach to "Youth from every Quarter" and national leadership in secondary education. He will address the need for excellence in the future.

through liberal arts with a global perspective and dedication to personal service.

Andover's new headmaster was Associate Dean of Faculty for the Social Sciences at Dartmouth College from 1978 to 1981. An associate professor of government, he joined the Dartmouth faculty in 1969 and will teach international relations at Andover. He received his B.A. from Earlham College and was both a Woodrow Wilson Fellow and a Danforth Fellow at Princeton where he received his Ph.D. in 1971.

Responsibility

Out of the lengthy discussion involving the school busing controversy Monday night, came one word which stands out among all that was orated in the course of the evening --- RESPONSIBILITY.

There are, of course, some legitimate claims of concern about youngsters walking to school in some instances, and there is every right to be confident that such problems will be addressed.

But, there is a responsibility on the part of parents who have concerns to see to it that their youngsters get to and from school safely. The school department has a responsibility to ensure that all youngsters in the community are treated fairly and educated properly, thus the bus route guidelines were established and approved by the school committee.

Just as parents can opt to disagree with the decision to hold classes in inclement weather and keep their child at home, so too do they have the equal responsibility to see to it that they get to school on time and safely, without relying on the school department to transport them there.

There are financial restraints placed on the school budget this year, and apparently the only ones feeling the pinch so far are those whose youngsters are affected by the school bus cutbacks.

It is well to consider that along with the inconvenience of some youngsters and parents in town, there have been other curtailments and cutbacks, due to the budgetary restraints placed upon not only Andover but other communities as well this year.

Among some of the Andover "victims" within the school system have been personnel, including an administrator, some programs and the institution of user fees which has imposed additional cost on parents whose youngsters will take advantage of sports and music opportunities within the public educational program.

There have been alternative programs offered, such as private bus service; probably some mothers have instituted car pools and the like.

Basically the problem resolves itself to the fact that the school committee and administration has made a decision felt to be in the best interests of the town in general - - which is their ultimate responsibility.

The responsibility placed upon those inconvenienced is now to see to it that the youngsters get to their school as safely as possible. Assuredly, if these youngsters have to be to music lessons, dance classes or sports events in the afternoon, the parents will provide safe routing to those recreational endeavors.

The responsibility to get the child to school is of equal importance.

RE: E. O'Connor's Letter

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

The letter in the September 10 Townsman by Ellen O'Connor makes a strong point for the Bottle Bill.

If said bill became law there would be less bottles to smash and cut dog's paws and people's feet, too!

I am sure Ellen O'Connor would vote for the Bottle Bill along with her dog, Hickory.

And many small children might find a new source for pocket money.

All you can afford to wear is a frown
You may have a home equipped with a pool
Yet your child may have to walk to school*

We're all made to think we're rolling in dough
The town fathers do their best I'm sure
But how much more can we endure*

That must put parents out of sorts
We love our town but have a heart

Generality About The Revaluation

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

Evidence continues to come to light that there is a flaw in the methods used to determine the current fair market value of land and buildings on a 100 percent current worth basis for purposes of real estate taxation in Andover.

The method used overstates land values. That, in turn, allows understating of luxurious homes and costly industrial and commercial buildings. Hence smaller

Litter

And, while on the subject of responsibility, we'd like to mention that there should be some concern over who might be responsible for making Andover a general trash bucket.

If one were to concentrate on the various notations in advertising journals and other periodicals concerning communities, Andover would get a general rating in appearance of A. Our town is described almost everywhere as a quiet, tree-lined, residential community of quaint New England charm.

It is to be hoped the authors don't make periodic spot checks on their attributions.

Lately it has become a community riddled with beer-container-strewn roadsides and litter-ridden open spaces.

It is hardly a pleasant way for commuters to start their day viewing the litter and smashed bottles and cans on Andover's Main street while awaiting the bus to Boston, knowing full well that the scenery can only degenerate further on their arrival in the Hub.

Or is it very pleasant for those who wish to enjoy the various conservation trails for a Sunday walk to sidestep the equally obnoxious litter deposits along their way.

The junk gets picked up. Some by public works crews at the town's expense, the rest by public-spirited residents who are diverted from their recreational pursuits to clean up after those who show little respect for others rights or property.

Isn't it about time that those responsible --- and it is mostly youths, let's face it --- faced up to the fact they are as obligated as everyone else to keep their community neat in appearance and not resemble a trash heap?

The Public Forum

homes bear more than their correct share of Andover's civic costs.

It's sort of a socialist idea in reverse. The wealthy and business groups get what their influence can provide; the rest, perforce, make up for what has been taken.

In general to determine the actual value of real estate, it is necessary to first compile a list of all real estate transactions for the past three years. Next each transaction must be footnoted with all the zoning laws and exceptions to those laws that apply where the sale was located. Next proximity of all Hatch Act land, town conservation and AVIS land must be noted, all applicable local, state and Federal environmental laws and exceptions and all possible changes of local laws that have been presented, passed or not, at town meeting for the past five years must also be related to the sales of property in a given location.

To the degree that it can be ascertained, the principal reasons why a seller sold should also be learned. Values for taxation are based upon what selling prices are, not what motivates buyers. It is clear the foregoing essentials were not used in the evaluation.

Consider: A home was recently sold for $75,000 after being reduced from $85,000. The current valuation is $105,000. Some wetland that cannot, by law, be built upon and which was valued at $600 is now valued at over $31,000. It turned out that the people doing the evaluation had no idea that the lot is wetland and cannot be built upon. And so it goes!

(Incidentally, where the use of wetland is for the support of the environment for the benefit of the entire town, it would seem to be incumbent upon the town to buy the land at the price it would produce if it were some of the other land that requires this land to continue making all the other land livable. This is a matter that requires attention.)

This question looms: Where were the office of selectmen and of town management when this obnoxious, extreme and distasteful method was formulated? It's a method that makes small homeowners subsidize wealthy ones, prosperous inflation manipulators and billion dollar corporate entities that have long been privileged by town meeting.

The situation seems to call for the office of selectmen to discharge the firm and sue for damages (if the office of selectmen is sure that it was not neglectful or otherwise involved in failing to oversee the work contracted to be performed) then start over working to make the result fair and current rather than come out with most land overvalued.

The value of land is what it can be and is used for, not what it might be worth if nothing were on it and

The first use of public works projects by the federal government to fight unemployment was by the Hoover administration in 1929, according to "Labor Firsts in America," published by the U.S. Department of Labor.

there were no laws restricting what can be put on it. Everyone knows that an acre of land in mid-Manhattan that cannot be built upon would have no taxable value.

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Where Pentagon can make its best cuts

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — President Reagan has reluctantly agreed to cut $30 billion from the huge increase he had planned in defense spending. The money will come out of the next two years' budgets.

The president has told the generals and admirals to decide which programs will be trimmed or eliminated completely. He calls it a "reverse wish list."

If the past is any guide, the brasshats will probably choose to cut the wrong programs. So we would like to help them out. Here is our list of projects that would never be missed:

- The Cruise missile system. This $10 billion project has been surrounded by controversy from the start, is far too expensive, and is probably unnecessary.

- The M-1 tank. This is a real lemon. It breaks down every 30 miles on the average, and the eventual price-tag is going to be in excess of $17 billion. That's five times the original estimate.

- The M-2 armored personnel carrier. It costs $1.5 million per copy, and its performance is reported to be worse than the M-1 tank's.

- The Trident nuclear submarine. Each one costs more than $1 billion. The contractor is years behind on deliveries, the cost overruns have been enormous, and the vessels have developed hundreds of cracks in the hulls.

- The F-18 fighter plane. This turkey is already on the Navy's hit list. According to one Navy study, the plane is "increasingly difficult to make a case for ... because of cost, performance and effectiveness."

The men in the Kremlin, meanwhile, know that even if America's military might were to be cut in half, the United States would still be a substantial threat to the Soviet Union. This is because the Pentagon has more than a thousand nuclear missiles aimed at Russia's industrial and population centers.

We've seen very secret estimates of what a U.S. retaliatory strike would do to the Soviet Union. It would be absolutely devastating. According to one excerpt from the secret estimates: "A retaliatory strike would claim on the order of 70 percent to 90 percent of Soviet manufacturing capacity through direct blast effects."

This means that without even figuring in the indirect effects of radiation, U.S. missiles could virtually wipe out the Soviet Union's ability to function as a first-class industrial power. This is because Russia's industry is concentrated in a handful of urban areas. It would take only a few nuclear missiles to put them out of commission. One secret report, for example, points out that 95 percent of the Soviet Union's iron production would be eliminated by destroying just 20 blast furnaces.

Industrial facilities aside, what about the Russian people? How would they make out in the event of an American nuclear attack?

The secret estimates are mind-boggling. Even if 80 percent of the Soviet Union's urban population was evacuated, and the rest was in the best available shelters, civilian casualties could be anywhere from 50 million to 85 million. If there were no time for evacuation, there would be between 100 million and 140 million casualties.

SOFT ON BIG OIL? The word has spread inside the Energy Department that President Reagan is soft on the oil industry. This has taken the steam out of the department's enforcement program.

The enforcement staff is leaving in droves, and there just aren't enough people left to catch the oil companies at their illegal games.

And why are the Energy Department's watchdogs leaving? They figure they'll lose their jobs sooner or later because of Reagan's budget cuts. So the best and the brightest are looking for other jobs.

The president has tried to reassure the Energy Department, but the investigative staff doesn't believe it. They think the word has gone out from the White House to take it easy on the oil companies.

According to an internal Energy Department memo, written by a highly placed enforcement official to his boss, "the staff is disillusioned and frustrated by the belief that most of their work will be for naught."

This isn't just another fight among bureaucrats. It involves literally billions of dollars. States the internal memo: "If we do not prosecute the violators, then consumers will have been ripped off to the tune of $8 billion to $10 billion."

WATCH ON WASTE — The Reagan administration may soon kick thousands of citizens off food stamp programs, but you can be sure that the members of the president's Cabinet won't go hungry.

Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis spends about $100,000 a year to pay five Coast Guard stewards to work in his private dining room. At the Justice Department, Attorney General William French Smith has budgeted $80,000 to pay two cooks and an assistant. Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige's private dining room costs the taxpayers $24,000 a year to operate.

Spokesmen for these Cabinet officers insist that the dining rooms are economical and that the cooks help out with other chores.

Council Gets Award

The Merrimack River Watershed Council received an award from Salmon Unlimited, a non-profit conservation organization dedicated to restoration and improvement of salmon fishing in New England.

"Merrimack River Watershed Council has pioneered efforts to make the once sadly polluted Merrimack River a recreational asset to Massachusetts and New Hampshire communities through which it flows. Its efforts have been largely directed to cleaning the river and today, its work is bearing fruit. A much cleaner river has encouraged the development of several community sailing programs on once severely polluted waters. Fishing, canoeing and other recreational uses are now daily events all along the Merrimack where once abutments were wise to keep windows closed on warm summer evenings due to the offensive odors arising from the river," stated Salmon Unlimited.

Avoid buying sweet potatoes with decayed portions or injuries to the skin. Even if cut away, the remainder of the potato may have a bad taste.

Ready For The Opener

Warriors Begin Title Quest Saturday

By Rick Harrison

The 1981 Andover High varsity football team will begin its quest for the Merrimack Valley Conference East Division championship this Saturday afternoon, hitting the road for a 1:30 p.m. game against Wilmington High at the Wildcats' gridiron.

The Golden Warriors wrapped up pre-season preparations with a scrimmage last weekend against visiting Wellesley, followed by four days of intense practice concentrated on all aspects of the game.

AHS Coach Dick Collins was generally pleased with the performance against Bay State League member Wellesley, as the two teams battled for more than two hours on an unseasonably warm September morning.

"We didn't look bad at all," observed Collins, whose Warriors will be out to produce Andover's 18th winning season in the last 19 years. "It was much better than we played against North Andover. We made a million mistakes in that scrimmage, which is understandable because there is so little time to prepare."

"Wellesley is much improved over last year," continued Collins, who books that team as a pre-season opponent quite often. "Both of us moved the ball well, and overall it was a pretty even scrimmage."

"We outscored them 2-1 when the first teams were on the field, and then they added another touchdown when their first team was in against our second unit."

"It was encouraging because, although we made a few mistakes at the beginning, we got away from that as we went along."

"I like our scrimmages to be officiated very strictly," explained Collins. "Some coaches don't do that because it tends to break the continuity, but I feel it's the only way the kids can learn. Hopefully they can get all the errors out of their system before the first regular season game."

"I think we can be an explosive team," noted the veteran coach, whose patented run-and-shoot offense has run opposing defenses ragged for years.

"And the defense has been sharp, with the first unit allowing only one touchdown in two scrimmages. We still have a lot of work to do on defense, and I'm always looking for improvement, but so far I'm pleased."

Collins, who feels the Golden Warriors' offense is ahead of the defense at this early stage, lauded the individual play of returning All-Conference selection Tim Grams at offensive end, veteran Craig Hyslip at offensive guard and defensive end, and all AHS running backs.

"Grams and Hyslip are outstanding football players," offered Collins. "Grams scored both touchdowns against Wellesley, and he's going to be a threat."

Grams, a sprinter on the winter track team and an All-Conference outfielder in baseball, has the potential to join the Farnham brothers and Glenn Verrette on the impressive list of standout receivers at AHS in recent years.

Starting Lineup

Collins, with one or two exceptions, is set on both starting lineups for the Wilmington game.

Italian was held out of the Wellesley scrimmage because of a sprained ankle, and if he is not ready by Saturday, Callahan will get the call.

Veteran Brian Moriarty, who fired 11 touchdown passes last season before being felled by injury, will open at quarterback. The lefty thrower can unload the long bomb, and isn't a bad runner as well.

The defensive line boasts White and Hyslop at end, Callahan at middle guard, and Sanchez switching off with John McLellan and big Bill Powell at the tackle positions.

Ted McDonald, Donlon and Chris Reichert will all see considerable action at linebacker, while the veteran secondary features Sacco and Scarpa at halfback, Grams and Lewis at safety.

Barring any last minute changes, Wilkins will do the punting, Glenn Acciardi will attempt the extra point

Ruther Tryouts Set For Weekend

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball teams will hold their annual fall tryouts this weekend, with sessions at the Andover High varsity field both Saturday and Sunday.

The Saturday tryout will run from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, while the Sunday tryout is scheduled from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

All Andover youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 who will not reach their 16th birthday prior to Aug. 1, 1982, are eligible to participate.

Each of the 15 positions on both Andover teams are open, with players from the previous year having to earn their way back on the team.

The Andover Gold team swept both the Greater-Lawrence League regular-season and playoff championships this past summer, posting a 26-3 overall record which included a 17-game win streak.

Andover Blue finished with a 14-8 record, placing third during the regular season and reaching the final round of the playoffs.

The Gold team will make its 12th annual trip to Montreal, Canada, during the 1982 season.

Those wishing further information should contact Rick Harrison at 475-2007 or 458-7100.

A second set of tryouts will be held next spring, after which the teams will be selected.

In the event of rain this weekend, the fall tryouts will be cancelled.

placements, and Jeff Parker will handle the kickoffs. "We're in pretty good shape as far as injuries go," commented Collins. "We have the normal bumps and bruises, and L'Italian has the ankle problem, but our only serious injury is to halfback Gary Milne (still recuperating from a broken collarbone suffered while playing ice hockey this past summer."

Wilmington

Andover and Wilmington made a reciprocal agreement not to scout one another during the pre-season, so Collins knows few specifics about his first opponent.

"Let's just say I've never seen a Wilmington team that was bad," laughed Collins. "We've never had an easy game with them yet, and over the years I think the series is pretty balanced."

In fact, we've had three or four cliffhangers in a row against them.

One of those cliffhangers saw Andover pull out a 14-10 victory on a last-second touchdown bomb from a scrambling Dan Welsh to Rick Collins (coach's son) who was surrounded by a pair of Wilmington defenders.

In another of those games Tom Walsh stepped in at quarterback for injured Manny Silva in the closing seconds, firing a tie-breaking 20-yard touchdown pass to Paul Farnham who made a leaping catch at the goal line.

"Last year we beat them by three touchdowns," recalled Collins. "But that's not indicative of how the game went. We came from behind with three scores in the final eight minutes to break the game open."

Wilmington, which spawned Mike Esposito who set scoring and rushing records in high school and at Boston College before playing five seasons with the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL, is coached by veteran John Ritchie.

The Wildcats were hit pretty hard by graduation, and the picture didn't brighten any for them when top running back Craig Richards suffered a broken ankle in a pre-season scrimmage against Nashua, N.H. High.

But, as Collins noted, he has never seen a bad Wilmington team.

The Golden Warriors will play their first home game

Bates Co-Captain Of Lowell Swim Team

Derek G. Bates

Derek G. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bates, 2 Bridle Path Road, Andover, will be serving as co-captain of the 1981-82 varsity swim team at the University of Lowell. Bates, a senior majoring in Civil Engineering, is the current school record holder in the 1650 freestyle, with a time of 19:34.1

A consistent dean's list student, Bates is a reliable performer, according to Lowell coach Dick Kenney. "He surprised us all in the 800 Free Relay at the New England Championships last season with a best performance on the squad, and his own personal best time of 1:53.5."

Bates came to Lowell out of the Lawrence Boys' Club program under Jim Gaudette. In his freshman year he held the school record in the 200 yard backstroke with a time of 2:17.71. Though his specialty is the middle distance freestyle event, he has seen action in every event in dual meet schedule except the breaststroke and the diving.

Bates will be joined this year by several other athletes from the Andover area. Michael Piazza, Chris Cronin and Matthew Carroll, all formerly with the Lawrence Boys' Club, should be swimming with the U-Lowell swim team this year. Piazza and Cronin are breaststroke specialists, while Carroll is a top-flight diver, whose older brother was a four-year letterman and a national competitor for Lowell several years ago on the springboards

Farnham Brown Split End Candidate

Junior split end Paul Farnham (5-7, 155) of Andover is a leading candidate for a starting position on the 1981 Brown University football team which is currently involved in pre-season workouts.

Head Coach John Anderson welcomed 105 candidates to the Bruins pre-season camp, including 26 lettermen from last year's 6-4 team. Anderson, who has guided Brown to eight consecutive winning seasons since coming here in 1973, lost heavily through graduation. The Bruins will be quite inexperienced on offense, but Anderson feels his club should be competitive in every game and has an excellent chance for another winning campaign.

Farnham led the 1979 freshman team in past receiving with 15 receptions for 249 yards and three touchdowns, caught two conversion passes and tied for the scoring lead with 24 points. Last year, he saw action in every varsity game, and had six receptions for 119 yards and a 19.8 average. He also had a 21.5 average for four kickoff returns and a strong 4.9 mark for 10 punt returns. Farnham played in all four J.V. games and had eight receptions for 102 yards.

Paul is similar in size and style to his brothers, Bob (1974-76) and Mark (1977-79), who were standout wide receivers for the Bruins. He has excellent speed, runs good pass routes and has sure hands. A strong starting candidate in 1981, Farnham was a member of the junior varsity lacrosse team as a freshman and lettered for the varsity this past spring as a midfielder.

Paul attended Andover High School where he won three letters each in football, track, and hockey. He was an All-Scholastic choice in football and track and was named the Most Valuable Performer of each team as a senior. He played his high school football under Dick Collins.

Paul is the son of Robert and Beverly Farnham of 122 Chestnut Street in Andover, and is the third youngest of seven children. His brother Bob set most of the Brown receiving records, was an All-East and All-Ivy pick, a standout in lacrosse and the Most Valuable Performer in the North-South All-Star lacrosse game. Brother Mark was also All-Ivy and All-East in football, and an All-American in lacrosse. Paul is majoring in Sociology at Brown.

New Phone Books To Be Delivered

Lawrence area telephone subscribers will find their new phone directories easier to use when they begin receiving the books next week.

Medication

If you're taking medication, be sure to read the label carefully before getting behind the wheel of your car. The ALA Auto and Travel Club warns that certain antibiotics, antihistamines and pain killers may affect your vision and coordination. When in doubt, ask your doctor.

Local New England Telephone manager, Margaret Carrington, said, "In addition to using a larger type size, the directories employ a new computerized design process which provides a four-column page format—a significant change from the present five-column books."

Delivery of some 89,000 copies of the new directory is scheduled to begin Sept. 23 and be completed in early October.

"Benefits derived from the directory's new look," Carrington added, "include a larger type appearance which makes for easier reading and improved type size image of customer names and telephone numbers.

"The new computerized design is a cost efficient use of a technological innovation enabling us to fit more listings on a page by eliminating most two-line listings."

The directory contains listings of telephone subscribers in Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Salem, N.H. A wealth of other information also can be found in the directories ranging from emergency services listings and guides to human services to tips on saving on phone bills, United States time zones and postal zip codes.

New England Telephone annually distributes over 10 million copies of 98 different directories which include more than 3 million listings on over 6 billion pages.

Veterans Agency Explores Management Efficiency

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Robert P. Nimmo has announced the initiation of a nationwide VA employee program - the Inspector General Advisory Councils - to review selected agency programs and discuss ways in which they may be vulnerable to fraud, waste and abuse.

The councils are the creation of VA's new Inspector General, Frank S. Sato, who believes this new program will provide positive and constructive input into VA's management system.

According to Sato, "This is a valuable opportunity for employees throughout the agency to contribute their ideas and first-hand knowledge toward practical solutions to problems encountered in the administration of VA programs and services.

Service on the advisory councils will be completely voluntary and will be performed as an adjunct to the employee's regular duties.

New England Electric has engineered, constructed and will be monitoring the world's first windfarm which is located at Crooked Mountain Center in Greenfield, N.H.

Course On Heritage

The current interest sweeping across America focusing on family heritage and origins seems to have been initiated by Alex Haley's "Roots." Within the Irish community the ancestral interest seems to have been spurred by the recently rekindled troubles of the North.

In response to the demonstrated interest, the Lawrence Hibernians have engaged the services of Joseph Glynn, president of the Irish Family History Society of Boston to conduct a seven-week course on the art of tracing one's lineage, beginning Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p.m. and continuing for the next six Tuesdays.

His wife, Britta Schein McNemar, a graduate of Connecticut College with a master's degree in urban education from the University of Pennsylvania, has left the Dartmouth College administration, where she most recently was Director of Career and Employment Services, to become Assistant Director of College Counseling at Andover. She is a trustee of Connecticut College. The McNemars have two daughters, aged six and four.

The ceremony will take place on the steps of Samuel Phillips Hall, named for the school's founder, who stipulated in its Constitution that it "ever be equally open to Youth, of requisite qualifications, from every Quarter." In line with this mandate, scholarship funds were established in 1789.

Fresh Water

The supply of usable fresh water stored within the first half-mile of the earth's surface (groundwater) is at least 20 times greater than the amount held in all U.S. rivers and streams.

This year, 30 percent of Andover's students will be assisted by $1.6 million in scholarships and loans. Additional loans to middle income families bring Andover's financial assistance total for 1981-82 to over $2 million.

After Andover Trustee President Melville Chapin has delivered the charge to him, the 13th headmaster will receive, from former headmaster Sizer, the gavel of Eliphalet Pearson, the first headmaster of Phillips Academy. Pearson opened the school in 1778 in an old carpenter's shed with 13 students, ranging from 6 to 30 years old. (The 6-year-old Josiah Quincy later became mayor of Boston and president of Harvard).

Headmaster McNemar today has more than 1,200 students from every major geographic, racial, religious and economic sector of the nation, and foreign students from more than 20 nations. Andover became coeducational in 1973 by merging with nearby Abbot Academy, one of the nation's first independent schools for girls (est. 1829).

Andover has become well-known for the excellence of its academic program and for its complementary programs for public school students and teachers. These include the Short Term Institutes; the Summer Session; (MS)—Math & Science for Minority Students; and the Andover-Dartmouth Institute for Teachers of Secondary School Mathematics, for urban high school math teachers. The Ford Foundation announced on Aug. 27 a grant of $316,400 to Andover for two more years of the five-year-old (MS) program, and to fully fund the first two years of the Andover-Dartmouth Teachers Institute at Andover, beginning next summer.

A brief outdoor reception will follow the investiture. In case of rain, the ceremony will be held in the Case Memorial Cage.

Job Seekers

Pooling Resources in a Tough Job Market, a group for job seekers who want to share information, contacts and ideas meet Wednesdays, Sept. 16 through Oct. 7, 10 to 11:30 a.m., at the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, 356 Boylston St., Boston.

School Project

two wings will no longer be used by the schools.

At Andover High School, excavation for the new auditorium will continue for the next three or four weeks, Mansell reported. The contractor ran into some problems with the emergency generator, but solved them within two or three days, he said.

The contractor also discovered an $8,700 problem with the high school electrical system: an electric panel board that seems to have burned out some years ago, and has been held together with temporary repairs. The panel board involves the heating system, architect Herb Glassman told the board, and must be fixed before the heat is turned on.

The building committee approved a construction change order for a new panel to avoid delaying construction, but will discuss that expense with the school committee. "There is some question whether this is a legitimate part of the school building program, or a school operating cost," Chairman Kenneth Gropper said.

Along with the 1,250-seat auditorium addition, some classroom areas will be expanded and renovated at the high school.

The $13.72 million three-part project is scheduled for completion by September 1983.

Gropper told Mansell he had seen children riding bicycles through the Doherty/East construction site, and "this concerns me a great deal." The contractor has ordered rolls of snow fencing to barricade "critical areas" at the site, Mansell said.

Gropper asked him to see that more warning signs are posted around the site as well.

In his report to the board, acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi said that Donna Roberge has been hired as a secretary to assist Mansell and Clerk of the Works John White. Roberge, an experienced construction secretary, will be paid $2.25 per hour on a contractual basis, Torrisi said, she will not be an employee of the town.

And in anticipation of reusing the two remaining EJH wings in the future, Torrisi told the board he had authorized the addition of a computer conduit into the Memorial Auditorium basement.

10716301 The basement currently houses a computer room, which could be used again if the school wings are converted into town and school offices, the acting town manager said.

Installing the conduit now while the building is under construction would prevent a future expense, and is "good insurance for something that may occur down the road," Torrisi explained.

He added that the $2,000 expense will come from the town budget, and not the school building project budget.

First Laundromat

The first launderette was the Washeteria, which opened in Fort Worth, Tex., April 18, 1934. It contained four electric washing machines that were charged by the hour.

From May to June food costs in the U.S. rose most significantly in the meats, poultry, fish and eggs categories. The greatest price advances were recorded for porterhouse steak, up 15.3 cents; T-bone steak, up 7.9 cents and pork chops, up 7 cents.

LEGAL NOTICES

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

CIVIL ACTION NO. 75-3017-Z

vs.

THE GILLETTE COMPANY

PAUL I. LEWIS

vs.

THE GILLETTE COMPANY

NOTICE OF REDEFINITION OF CLASS

Attention: BLACK PRESENT AND FORMER TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES AND UN-SUCCESSFUL BLACK APPLICANTS FOR CERTAIN JOBS AT THE GIL-LETTE COMPANY

THIS NOTICE IS FROM THE FEDERAL COURT
IN BOSTON. ALL BLACK PRESENT AND FORMER
TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES AND ALL BLACKS
WHO APPLIED FOR MANAGEMENT AND PRO-FESSIONAL JOBS AT GILLETTE SINCE JUNE 16, 1973, BUT DID NOT GET HIRED, HAVE BEEN EXCLUDED FROM TWO LAWSUITS AGAINST THE
GILLETTE COMPANY. YOU SHOULD READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY.

In two lawsuits against The Gillette Company, brought by three black persons, Henry Brown, Samuel Jones and Paul Lewis, in which the Court previously certified a class of plaintiffs, the Court has now in connection with a proposed settlement redefined the plaintiff class to exclude black present and former temporary employees and all blacks who have at any time since June 16, 1973, applied for, but did not receive, an executive, administrative, managerial, supervisory or professional job with Gillette in Massachusetts. The proposed settlement agreement does not make any provision for these persons.

Those excluded are no longer parties to these two lawsuits and will not be bound by any determination by the Court therein. They are free to pursue their individual claims independently. If you are a member of one of these groups you have a right to object to the proposed settlement agreement. The settlement agreement is on file with the Court at the United States Post Office and Courthouse Building, Room
1525, Boston, Massachusetts. You may read it there.

The Court will hold a hearing to consider the settlement, and any opposition to it, on Wednesday, October 14, 1981, at 2:00 P.M. in Courtroom 3 on the 12th floor of the United States Post Office and Courthouse in Boston. If you think that the settlement should not be approved, you or your lawyer may appear at that time to explain your position. However, if you wish to do this, you or your lawyer must notify the Court in writing that you oppose the settlement and may briefly state the reasons why you oppose the settlement. No special form is necessary as long as your statement is written. All statements should be sent to:

Nina Singer, Deputy Clerk
1525 U.S. Post Office & Courthouse
Boston, Massachusetts 02109

All statements must be received by the Court on or before October 7, 1981. If you do not provide a written statement to the Court by that date, your views will not be considered, and if the settlement is approved, you will have no right to appeal from it.

REALTOR

HOUSE SHOWING TIPS

The most critical phase of home-selling is showing your home. What the prospect sees and feels during that showing will — more than anything else — affect his decision on whether or not to buy. Here are some tips for the seller when the house is being shown.

Be courteous but don't force conversation with the potential buyer. He wants to inspect your home — not pay a social call. Avoid having too many people present during inspections. The prospect may feel like an intruder and hurry through the house.

Let your REALTOR do the escorting and showing of the house. He knows the prospect's requirements and can better emphasize the features of your home when you don't tag along. You will be called if needed. Let your REALTOR discuss price, terms, possession and other factors with the prospect. Don't ever get into any personal negotiations or you'll lose the effect of your REALTOR'S strongest advantage. He is eminently qualified to bring negotiations to a favorable conclusion.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

somewhere else (to add more buses)," he said.

"High quality education has always been a top priority in Andover," Finn told the parents. "It helps make Andover a very desirable address."

"What's needed is a heck of a lot of understanding from the community standpoint," Seifert told the parents. The narrow streets, lack of sidewalks and lines painted in the streets, and increasing traffic caused by industrial growth are town issues, not school issues, he said, suggesting that perhaps the time has come for the town to deal with those problems.

"There is a price to be paid for living in a quaint New England town," the superintendent commented.

Atty. Grover Nix of Central Street, the father of two St. Augustine's students, told the committee that that school's enrollment has dropped by 41 this year, attributing that to the busing cut.

"The responsibility (for students' safety) rests with you," he told the committee. "If someone is hurt, you may be personally liable. Please think about your policy decision — and don't be hostile, Mr. Eaton," Nix said, to loud applause.

Finn responded that state law does not require the schools to bus children who live within two miles of school. "We are well within our legal rights, and not in danger of a lawsuit. We're fulfilling our obligation and beyond," he said.

Town Moderator James Doherty, speaking as a private citizen, suggested that the committee's vote on Neal's motion would not satisfy townspeople. "You're going to have an awful lot of unhappy people," he said. Instead of "halfway measures", Doherty recommended reinstating the fallen bus routes.

School Transit Problems Not Within Selectmen's Province

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The School Committee referred them to the selectmen, but a group of parents worried about safe transportation to school for their children were told Monday night that that problem is "not a selectmen's issue."

Last week the school committee, while promising to consider buses for the most dangerous parts of town, told parents they would not rescind their new busing policy. That policy provides buses only for elementary students who live more than a mile and a-half from school, and secondary students who live more than two miles away.

The committeemen advised parents to take their concerns about Andover's narrow, sidewalkless and busy streets to the selectmen. Streets unsafe for children to walk, the schoolmen said, are "a town issue."

But this week, the selectmen rejected the notion that they are in any way responsible for getting students safely to school. The school committee. Selectmen Donn Byrne told a small and quiet group of parents at Memorial Hall Library, had done "a quick shuffle" by sending them to the selectmen.

"This issue has not appeared before the board of selectmen in the five years I've been a selectman," Selectman Edward Harris said. "This is a new one to me."

"This is not specifically our issue," Selectman Jerry Silverman added. "What they (the school committee) have done is to sic you on us, and I feel bad about that. Public safety is a very important concern — but this is not legally our issue."

Chairman Norma Gammon said the busing complaint was "nothing the selectmen have ever had to deal with before," adding that she is carpooling children to the South school. "We're all in the same position here," she told the parents.

Selectman Susan Poore was not present.

Silverman assured the parents, many of them Ballardvale residents, that school administrators are trying to work out problems with the bus policy, and may yet find room on buses for children who live within the busing limit but must walk thorough unsafe areas. Former Andover High principal Philip Wormwood, a Ballardvale resident, is working on the problem, the selectman added.

"Be patient," Silverman said. "They are working on it and expect within a very short time to have a solution."

He added that townspeople should "remember that this town voted, almost two to one, for (Proposition) 2½ — and this is
